

2019 International Conference On Disaster Medicine & Hurricane Resiliency

March 8 - 11 | Caribbean island of St. Maarten/St. Martin

Focus on Health Professions Education and Healthcare Delivery

The International Conference on Disaster Medicine & Hurricane Resiliency will bring together healthcare professionals, educators, and other professionals focused on providing patient care, directing emergency response, and training others to prepare for and respond to hurricane-scale disasters.

This conference is organized by American University of the Caribbean School of Medicine in partnership with Harvard Medical Faculty Physicians of Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center.

Featured Speakers

Dr. Gregory Ciottone
Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center and
Harvard Medical School

Dr. Mary Russell
Boca Raton Regional Hospital and Healthcare Emergency Response Coalition of Palm Beach County

Dr. Gavin MacGregor-Skinner
Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center and
Penn State Hershey

Dr. Tener Goodwin Veenema
Johns Hopkins School of Nursing and Bloomberg School of Public Health

Dr. Satchit Balsari
Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center and
Harvard T.H. Chan School of Public Health

Highlights

- Plenary sessions on disaster medicine, hurricane science, emergency response, and more.
- Application for CME credit has been filed with the American Academy of Family Physicians. Determination of credit is pending.
- Call for Submissions info available on the website for posters, workshops, and presentations.

Early Bird Rate

Register by January 15, 2019 for our $650 early bird rate ccdm@aucmed.edu for all inquiries ccdm.aucmed.edu for more information